

Michelle Reynolds

Director – 2009-2010

Michelle Reynolds is a native of Prince William County, Virginia. Early in her career, Michelle worked in the telecommunications and international building material industries in a variety of accounting and administrative positions, while attending the local community college.

In 1998, Michelle, being a new Mom to a beautiful little girl provided the opportunity to job share with another new mother in an accounting/administrative position at Old Republic National Title Insurance Company. This provided the perfect balance to spending time raising her daughter and forging into what would end up being a great career and company to work for. Now, 11 years later Michelle is Operations Manager for the Virginia office of Old Republic National Title Insurance Company.

Some of Michelle's interests are, of course, her daughter Kelsey and her many extra-curricular activities such as travel for soccer and track...this list could go on and on. Other interests are her church, photography, bike riding, cooking and enjoying all that life has to offer.

An interesting fact that few people know about Michelle is that she was a hand model and provided voice over services in several local television and radio commercials.
